Thirty-one States and a large number of cities have in successful opera tion a teachers' retirement fund. Though late, the District may do well to follow their example.

SENATOR BACON CHAMPIONS DISCHARGED CLERKS.

Whatever may be the merits in the case, the justice or injustice, the community will subscribe very heartily to Georgian derided a system of economy which was so obviously a "waste at the bung and a saving at the spigot." He called upon Congress to stop increasing the salaries of high officials if it was going to discontinue the salaries of department clerks.

That the department heads feel justified in discharging clerks whom they do not need or who have outgrown their usefulness, we all understand. That is business, they say, but we are not quite sure of it. Seldom do great private corporations turn old and faithful servants out in their declining years to starve. They do not consider it good business.

Senator Bacon undoubtedly scored when he called attention to the petty economies which the departments are practicing in the discharge of old clerks, while Congress sitting at the other end of the Avenue is adding millions upon millions to its appropriation bills, and is exceeding the expenditures of any other Congress in a period of peace.

Another fact of striking interest as to the South's growth is seen in the relative importance of cotton as an export. It is more than two and one-half times the value of the uext largest export, namely, meat and dairy products.

COMMISSION TO PROBE RAIL-ROAD CAPITALIZATION.

A Government commission to investigate railroad capitalization is now proposed. It has been practically agreed among the leaders of Congress, the conferees on the railroad bill, and the President, that such a commission will be provided for. This is a comthe railroad measure.

President Taft lately announced that and nothing else." the sentiments of Senator Bacon in he wanted capitalization control legishis championship of the discharged lation, but it speedily developed the clerks in the Treasury Department. The obstacles in the Senate were such that he would not secure any law on this subject at this session.

The commission plan will be looked on by those who are earnestly for capitalization control as but a small to go. Criticism will be heard that the ommission is but a means used to hide retreat. President Taft's friends insist otherwise, and that he intends to work persistently for Government control of railroad stock and bond issues.

Short Talks on Classified Advertising

Is What You Have to Offer WORTH ADVERTISING?

If it is, it's worth advertising right. Not in a paper whose advertising costs little or nothing, because with most people a similar lack of value attaches itself to the thing that's advertised -and that's not what you want.

Advertise right by advertising in a paper which lends the article advertised some of its own importance and value-which charges you for the space that's used because that space has actual worth-which makes the charge as small as possible simply to give you Real Results at a Minimum Cost.
